

DUST EXPLOSION PROTECTION

AVOID THE DEVASTATING CONSEQUENCES OF DUST EXPLOSION IN EXHAUST SYSTEMS

Often we can find many industrial processes which contains high explosion risks because of combustible dust. But we are usually not able to imagine the dimensions and consequences in case of dust explosions.

This seminar is about the prevention of the risk of explosion and fire in industrial plants and their suitable protection with the latest technologies developed by our company.

Professional lectures will be supplemented by practical demonstrations of the explosion and a complementary program. The partner of the event is the company WVÚ, a.s.

CONDITIONS OF PARTICIPATION:

- The number of participants is limited. Your registration will be confirmed via e-mail.
- RSBP spol. s r.o. reserves the right to cancel the event, in which case the fee will be refunded in full or will be transferred to a new date of the event.
- By sending the registration form, you give permission for the processing of personal data by our company for the purpose of the event, including the acquisition of video and audio recordings for the purpose of further promotion of these seminars and RSBP spol. s r.o.

PRICE

- You can find the specific price at the registration page on our website under the link www.rsbp.cz/en/customer-services#training-programs
- Price includes training materials, presentations, practical demonstrations of explosions, all-day refreshments.

RECOMMENDATION

Accommodations

We recommend accommodation in the hotel Jan Maria, which is the closest to our company - <https://www.jan-maria.cz/eng/reservation/> - when booking, please fill in the password „RSBP“.

Safety precaution

To take part in practical demonstrations of explosions, we will provide you with eye and hearing protection. During presentation radiant light and louder sound effects may occur, so please consider participating in demonstrations if you are sensitive to such effects. You participate in explosion demonstrations at your own will and risk. You do not have to take part in demonstrations if your health condition does not allow it.